

DEATH TO TREE PEST

SUNLIGHT IS FORMIDABLE Foe OF BLACK SCALE THAT ATTACKS SHADE TREES

Observant citizens have doubtless seen that a great deal of work has been going on during some time past on the shade trees that adorn the streets of Glendale. Wherever the pepper trees are growing, Frank Marek, the official city tree trimmer, has been at work trimming and cutting off dead limbs and often cutting away considerable portions of the crowns of the trees. If anyone has wondered at this he may be assured that it is the proper thing to do.

Most of the pepper trees and some other trees also are affected by what is known as the black scale and sometimes by another species of animal parasite known as the greedy scale. These minute animalculae attach themselves to the leaves of the trees and feed there, to the great detriment of the tree growth.

"Sunlight," said Mr. Marek to a representative of the Glendale Evening News, "is the great enemy of the black scale. That is why we open up the center of the trees. The best thing for them is to get the sunlight into the very heart of the foliage. It has been noticed that the black scale does not live long under the rays of the sun. This pest dries up and disappears if the light can only be got to it. That is why it is so difficult to get rid of the scale on apricot trees, and on oranges, lemons and some others on which the foliage is dense.

"The scale finds its best habitat and breeding place in the dark. It travels out onto the leaf and having fed there until it has reached a certain stage, it creeps back onto the stem of the tender branch and there lays from 1000 to 2000 eggs. These eggs are laid under a hard capsule, which you can see on the branches like a tiny excrescence. Once permitted to reach that stage, nothing can be done to prevent the hatching of those eggs and the process goes on until the tree is ruined.

"The city has been doing this work for some time. Last year we could only do a certain amount of it. This year we have done a great deal more. By and by we expect to overtake the work entirely and then the streets will look better. The scale never attacks the eucalyptus, but the eucalyptus is not a good street tree. It is too tall. It is really a forest tree. It has a tannic acid drip that is fatal to grass, corn and also to some other trees. Soon we hope to take out all those eucalypti and replace them with other trees more appropriate to the streets.

"One of the best trees is the live oak. It never freezes; it is attacked by no pests; it has a long life and is a picturesque tree also. Spraying is an excellent means of helping to get rid of the scale, but we hope to drive it out by our present process. Conditions are very much better now than they used to be. The people of Glendale know how much of a pest this scale can be. It crawls about on the leaf and exudes a species of honey dew, as it is called, which drips on the sidewalk and makes it quite black and slippery in places. That used to be the case very much in the district north of Fifth street. It is bad this year in that region also.

"Wherever the soil is dry and the sunlight gets at the trees there is very little scale. Such conditions prevail in La Crescenta and there very little of the black scale is found. By reproducing as much as possible similar conditions here we are gradually getting rid of this destructive pest. People who have pepper, olive, apricot or other trees that are subject to the attack of this enemy should examine their trees at this time of the year and cut off those branches which are infected. In this way they will kill the pest and restore their trees to the fullness of living."

RAIN IN ILLINOIS

A citizen of Northern Illinois writes, under date of August 5 to the Evening News: "An abundance of rain. The farmers are having a hard time harvesting and not nearly all the hay made. Fields are so soft binders swamp in them. The sun smiled on us a few hours today and his old face surely looked good to us, and we hope he may be with us tomorrow again."

SHAKESPEARE CLUB

The Shakespeare club will hold their regular session on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at 1560 Myrtle street. After this meeting the club will take a two weeks' vacation. Visitors will be welcome.

NEW STREET WORK

CITY NOW IN POSITION TO BEGIN OPENING UP VARIOUS ROADWAYS

There is always work going on in connection with the streets of the city. Much of that work escapes the notice of the citizens, but it is none the less important and exacting on the time of the city officials. For some time past the city manager and other officials have been occupied with proceedings for the opening up of certain streets and their extension into connection with other roadways. This is a somewhat tedious process as the law prescribes certain intervals that must elapse between the different stages of the process.

Time allowed for protest in connection with the proceedings for the opening up of Adams street from First to Oakwood has passed and there being no obstacle to the prosecution of that work, it will be pushed vigorously. This will open up a section that may be expected to develop ere long.

Between Glendale avenue and Verdugo road a section of land stretches from the end of Orange Grove, which will now be opened up by a new portion of street. The stretch of street here will be about 2000 feet. The time for protest has passed and the assessment roll is now being made up. This work will begin almost immediately.

Another street section where the time for protest has already passed is that from Seventh street to Adams. Seventh street extends at present from Glendale avenue to a little beyond Everett street.

It has already been intimated that Broadway will be opened up to a uniform width of eighty feet east of Glendale avenue and as far out as its junction with Eagle Rock road. That section of Eagle Rock road where Broadway joins it will now be known as Broadway. Condemnation proceedings are under way for this work and when completed this street will be a very fine feature of the city.

Other and larger plans are now being considered for the opening up of certain sections of the city. Those plans are very far-reaching and will add greatly to the amenities of the city if carried out. It is probable that they will be taken under consideration this week and further report will then be made. Altogether it can be seen that the city management has had its hands full for some time past with these various pieces of work, which when completed, will effect much desired improvement.

MCCOURTS COME TO GLENDALE

Glendale's assets, both natural and otherwise, are such as to attract the better class of people. Very recently a number of families who are able to have and to appreciate the best things of life have selected Glendale as a place of residence. Among these is Mr. R. C. McCourt of Los Angeles, who recently purchased of Mr. Mattison B. Jones the residence property at 110 South Central.

Mr. McCourt is a manufacturer of shirts and a part owner and officer of the Calvevar Shirt company of South Los Angeles street. The family intends to take possession of their new home the latter part of this week. The McCourts are the sort of people who raise the standing and add to the prestige of the community in which they live. They will be warmly welcomed as citizens of Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Jackson, brother-in-law and sister-in-law of Mrs. Edwards, 1411 West Colorado street, were visitors Sunday at the Mrs. Edwards home. Mr. Jackson is president of the Texas Bank and Trust company, El Paso, Texas, and also superintendent of the El Paso water works. He says that business is very good in that city, which has grown to such dimensions within the past few years that it now has a population of 70,000. Ordinary houses rent for about $120 a month and there are none vacant. The Jackson party left Monday morning for San Francisco and will visit Mrs. Edwards.

G. U. H. S. 1913 CLUB

Old classmates greeted classmates with enthusiasm Monday night when the Glendale Union high school 1913 club met in reunion at the Masonic temple. There were about thirty of the members present. The affair was also a kind of celebration in honor of Mr. Frank Brown, a member of the 1913 class, who has been a mining engineer in Korea during the past two years. Mr. Brown was cordially greeted by his former classmates and had many interesting stories to tell. The party had a pleasant supper and a jolly dance; old times were talked over and plans laid for fresh celebrations.

FERRY LOWEST BIDDER

ON IVY STREET WORK—TRUSTEES HEAR PROTESTS—USUAL ROUTINE

Prior to the regular meeting of the board of trustees the members of the board who, according to law comprised the board of equalization, convened and upon being informed that the city assessor had not completed the assessment roll, a motion prevailed that when the board adjourns it adjourn to meet the following day, August 10, at 2 o'clock p. m.

The board of trustees then convened in regular session and upon roll call all trustees responded present as follows: O. A. Lane, president of the board, and Trustees Charles Grist, J. S. Thompson, A. W. Tower and George Williams.

There were also present T. W. Watson, city manager; J. C. Sherer, city clerk; W. E. Evans, city attorney; H. B. Lynch, manager of the public service department; Edw. M. Lynch, city engineer, and A. H. Lankford, city fire chief.

A communication was read from parties in Sacramento advising the board of trustees to send as a delegate to the municipal convention to be held in that city September 6, the city health officer, explaining that there were many questions of importance coming up that would be of great value to all city health officials. This question was referred to the finance committee.

This being the time set for the hearing of protests on Bena way and Opechee way bridge improvements, on motion the protests were taken up for consideration. Mrs. Mary Whipple, a property owner in Glendale Heights, appeared before the board, objecting to certain irregularities in regard to descriptions of property and stating that as soon as she would be made sure that these changes would be made in the maps, she would withdraw her protests. Mrs. Whipple was assured by the board and the city engineer that the necessary corrections would be made as she had requested, thereupon Mrs. Whipple withdrew her objections to protests previously made. Miss Winifred Marr also protested against the character of the work on the Opechee way bridge and made a lengthy address to the board and asked many questions, which the city attorney promptly answered. Miss Marr was unwilling, however, to withdraw her protest and on motion of the board the protest was denied and the assessments will go on without interruption.

The bids for improving Ivy street were then opened and publicly read. They were as follows:

TROPICO BOY SCOUTS

PROMINENT CITIZENS HELP TO TRAIN YOUTH—INTERESTING SOCIAL EVENTS

There is no local organization that is meeting with more continued success than the Boy Scouts brigade. The personnel of the instructors and sponsors numbers some of the most progressive and active citizens of Tropic, who, though busy with their professional and business duties, find sufficient time to aid and guide these young boys. Among the most active of these instructors is Dr. A. M. Duncan, who each Friday evening gives an illustrated talk to the scouts on "First Aid." Dr. Duncan's talks are replete with good, sound advice and of much help to the boys. Others who are instrumental in promoting the welfare of the brigade and assisting the boys are C. T. Van Etten, Dwight Stephenson, A. J. Frankland, J. G. Goodsell and H. D. Cutting. The scouts are now holding their meetings in the Mariposa school building. The membership has been increased lately by the addition of eighteen members. Various entertainments have been given under the auspices of the Boy Scouts which have been of a most pleasing character. The program committee—H. D. Cutting and Harold Benner—are at present arranging a program that will be presented Monday and Tuesday evenings, August 23 and 24.

A very pretty though informal dinner party was given Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Griffin at their home on West Acacia street, complimentary to Miss Dorothy Hobbs. Others who were seated with the host and hostess and charming honoree were Mr. and Mrs. John Hobbs, Miss Katherine Hobbs, Miss Lois Candee, Maj. J. J. Weiler and Jim Griffin. Following the discussion of the tempting menu, Miss Lois Candee, who is a most promising whistler, delighted the guests with a number of selections.

After an absence of several months spent at her former home in Knoxville, Tenn., Mrs. James Rich has returned and will take up her residence in Los Angeles, where her son, Samuel Rich, is engaged in business. Mrs. Rich will visit in Tropic often as she has many friends in this city as well as two daughters, Mrs. L. C. Haynes and Mrs. W. C. Seals.

Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Luedke of 112 South Brand boulevard have returned from a most delightful sojourn at Redondo Beach.

Miss Irene Rich of Los Angeles, formerly of Tropic, is spending a portion of her summer vacation visiting her sister, Mrs. Landon C. Haynes of 310 West Cypress street and also former classmates.

A number of members of N. P. Banks Post, Corps and Sons of Veterans will leave early tomorrow morning for Huntington Beach to attend the annual encampment of the Southern California Veterans' association. These three patriotic organizations will furnish the program for tomorrow night at the encampment.

Mrs. Ella B. Boyer of Terre Haute, Ind., who has been visiting in San Francisco the past week, will arrive this evening for a three months' visit to her cousins, Mrs. David H. Imbler and Miss Cora Hickman of Palm Villa.

TROPICO PLAYGROUND DANCE

Tropico is busily working away at plans to improve and thoroughly equip a municipal playground for the children of that progressive center. For that purpose a public dance will be held in the K. of P. hall, Tropic, Thursday evening. Busch's orchestra will be in attendance and a most enjoyable time is anticipated. Mrs. Ella Richardson, who was to have given a dance Thursday evening at her tennis court on South Central avenue, has very thoughtfully determined to postpone it in view of the Tropic dance on that night. The date of Mrs. Richardson's dance will be announced tomorrow.

CASA VERDUGO WINS

CENTRAL AVENUE PLAYGROUND BOYS GET OPENING GAME OF LEAGUE SEASON

Hastings Bidwell, summer playground director at the Central avenue playground, has had a strenuous time getting his ground into shape and coaching his team. The playground was in very bad condition with weeds and Bidwell had quite a difficult job cleaning up the diamond. Now everything is going in excellent style. The boys are enthusiastic and under the direction of a baseball expert like Hastings Bidwell, they are showing some class.

The opening game of the Junior league season was won by the Casa Verdugo boys Monday. This victory was due to the excellent pitching of Milton Brown, who allowed the high school boys only one hit. The victory of Casa Verdugo was not easily gained, however. The high school boys put up a hard fight, but the hitting of the Casa Verdugo team was too much for them.

Fanset, who started for the high school boys, was knocked out of the box in the fourth inning. He was replaced by Powers, who pitched fairly good ball for the remainder of the game. The feature of the game occurred in the ninth inning, when Jefferson, playing left field for Casa Verdugo, made a one-handed catch, which elicited tremendous applause from the fans. League games will be played every Monday, Wednesday and Friday during the next three weeks.

There is much excellent material in this team. It has three good pitchers—Brown, Mitchell and Williamson. Mitchell is an excellent all-around man, as good on the track as on the diamond. Reed is the regular catcher and he is quick and reliable. Marsh is a good second baseman and "Zeb" Terry is a crackerjack third baseman. Terry is also a handball expert and is expected to show a fine game in the handball tournament that is being arranged.

A LIVELY CITY—PEORIA, ILL.

One of the "most alive" cities of this country is Peoria, Ill., and evidence of activity and commercial enterprise came by mail to E. F. Parker, 417 South Brand boulevard, this city, from Hon. Willis Evans, secretary of the Peoria Association of Commerce, being the July issue of the "Peorian," being a "Park" edition of that publication, showing by pictures in high realm of art and written text of eloquent and rare fidelity, the natural beauty of the grounds forming the Peoria park system and the wonderful landscape effects introduced by science and skill, thus assisting nature in producing effects of bewildering beauty. Gazing on these pictures, the most enthusiastic Californian would have to confess there is much of beauty elsewhere, and no feeling of jealousy will prevent a friendly wish that the central city of Illinois may continue to create and enjoy to the limit all the felicity they earn by development of their noble park and boulevard system. Mr. Parker has filed this copy of the "Peorian" at the office of our Chamber of Commerce and the many former Peorians now living here might enjoy a look at scenes and places familiar to them in the long ago. While to a standpat Californian no special reason might be created for going there from here, Peoria's park system would be a strong argument for staying there were much else lacking.

To the most diligent workers will go the best prizes, and that is the way it should be.

ADVENTISTS IN CAMP

The fate of Turkey involves the fate of the world, according to the statement of Pastor E. E. Andross of Glendale, president of the Pacific Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, in his sermon at the big campmeeting in Los Angeles recently. Christ's coming and the destruction of "them that destroy the earth" will come when the Turkish empire is wiped out, the speaker said.

The mammoth canvas pavilion will seat 3000 persons and hundreds are camped on the acreage at Moneta avenue and Forty-first place. The big tent has been crowded every night since the annual campmeeting of the Adventists in Southern California began last Thursday night. Every facility is provided at the tent city. A five-pole tent is being used for the cafeteria and lunch counter. A well-stocked grocery store is in operation besides book store and postoffice. There is no meat market, however, for all the Adventists are vegetarians.

Four special services daily, besides lesser meetings, are being held. The special meetings are at 11 a. m., 2:30, 6:45 and 7:30 p. m. Five foreign missionaries are on the grounds, besides conference presidents from Oakland, Fresno, Reno, Nev., and other places.

OHIO SOCIETIES' PICNIC

Thousands of members of the many Ohio societies in Southern California are looking forward to the great all-Southern California Ohio picnic to be held at Bixby park, Long Beach, on Thursday, August 26. A basket picnic will be held at the park at noon. Free coffee and lemonade will be furnished everyone wearing an official Ohio badge.

The Long Beach municipal band will furnish music. After the dinner there is to be a very fine program. Congressman Wm. D. Stephens will speak. There will be valuable prizes for the handsomest baby, the shortest lady, the tallest man, the largest family, the person traveling farthest to attend and even for the "tenderest tenderfoot." Of course one has to be a Buckeye to compete.

Before dinner there will be books for registration by counties and all competitors will have to register and have a badge. It is expected that the attendance will be very large. The street railway company has made a special round trip rate of twenty-five cents from Los Angeles for that day. These tickets will have to be purchased at the Los Angeles station before boarding the cars. Tickets at this rate will not be sold on the cars. Last year Pasadena sent a special eight-coach train with a band. Thousands will probably make the trip by auto. The Ohio badge which is sold for a small sum admits the wearer to practically all amusements at half rates.

The picnic is in charge of the Federation of Ohio Societies of Southern California. Judge William A. Spill of Pasadena is president and Isaac Springer, 233 I. W. Hellman building, Los Angeles, is secretary. The membership of the federation numbers many thousands. This outing will afford a rare opportunity for former residents and natives of Ohio now living in Southern California to meet and visit. The Buckeyes claim to be one of the very largest organizations in Southern California.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND ITS CRITICS

"So many men, so many opinions," said the ancient Latin proverb. No one expects all men to think alike and in the end all government amounts to a compromise. It is by coming together and exchanging views that a method of living is found for mankind when gathered together in a community.

In all communities of the United States where Chambers of Commerce exist those bodies have been found useful and advantageous to civic life. They have been the means of bringing to public attention various civic abuses and suggesting remedies for them.

It is not to be imagined for a moment that any Chamber of Commerce imagines that it has a monopoly of the wisdom of any city, but those bodies are usually composed of business men of some standing and experience, men who have graduated in life and acquired a right to be well thought of by reason of their success in business.

They are usually modest enough and of that quality of ripened judgment that fully understands the value of hearing all sides of any question. They look upon the Chamber of Commerce as a species of incubator where are hatched out ideas for the benefit of the city—a place where civic doings can be discussed without the trammels of officialdom and with the feeling that if there is any fault or flaw in any scheme proposed that it will be detected in the discussion that inevitably follows any suggestion.

If there are others in the City of Glendale who have ideas on civic subjects, the Chamber of Commerce is the body of which they should be members. It is hardly fair to stand outside a body of this nature and subject it to criticism when membership in the body itself is available to all and when the members of the chamber would heartily welcome any new accession to its membership that would bring added wisdom and experience.

At the coming meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Friday evening, a welcome awaits any citizen, not now a member, who will bring the benefit of his accumulated knowledge and past experience to the counsels of the present chamber. There are many subjects of deep importance to be discussed that will offer scope for those who have opinions to offer. It is well to have as many angles of vision on a subject as it is possible to obtain. That is why boards of strategy exist for warfare.

Civic development is more or less warfare. It gives scope for men of all shades and varieties of opinion and sometimes a single word throws invaluable light on a situation. If, therefore, anyone feels that he can help, let him come to the meeting; let him offer his services and his knowledge. He will be made welcome and if he prove worthy, he will add to the sum of knowledge that the Chamber of Commerce is daily acquiring.

SUCCESS OF EXPOSITION ASSURED

All California will rejoice to learn that the success of the San Francisco Exposition is assured from a financial point of view. The attendance mark passed 10,000,000 Monday. There are still about five months of the Fair to run and some of these months should be among the best of the year as far as attendance is concerned. With an attendance of 10,000,000 reckoned up to August 9, the total attendance should not fall far short of the 20,000,000 total estimated by the Fair authorities before the opening.

That is satisfactory from every point of consideration. Many world's fairs have shown a deficit and some of them have been failures. Naturally everything depends on the attendance. With an attendance of 10,000,000, although probably not all paid admissions, the various concessions should make money and it may be safely considered that quite a proportion of the receipts they have after this will be clear profit.

The exposition authorities have naturally made arrangements by which they receive a certain proportion of the receipts of the various concessions as well as a capital sum down. As there is no doubt now that the future attendance will be on a scale proportionate to that already enumerated, the exposition itself should make money.

California, too, is profiting by the large influx of visitors that the two fairs have brought here this year. San Diego has received a proportion of the visitors to San Francisco, not nearly as many as she would have liked; yet still as many, probably, as to insure the financial success of that exposition also.

More than that, many visitors to California will send back some of their numbers to be residents and citizens of the state. The genial climate and the fine spirit of hospitality that pervades the state cannot fail to prove attractive so that directly and indirectly California will benefit by the expositions.

POLICE AND FIRE ALARMS

Glendale's city management is anxious that the citizens shall be accorded every means of protection for property, life and limb. Already the city has an efficient police and an ever watchful fire department; but it is thought that there is something lacking. At present it is necessary for the police to report every hour in person at the police headquarters as there is no police alarm system.

In similar manner fires can only be reported by telephone or in person and some citizens and officials think that also is a matter that should be remedied. At the meeting of the Board of Trustees last night there was some divergence of opinion on these two points. There seems to be a general feeling that the city should install a system of police alarms, while the demand for fire alarms does not appear to be either general or insistent.

Undoubtedly Glendale would be the better for a modern system of police alarms. The police would thus be enabled to give a great deal more efficient protection to the city. At present, the night policemen must remain somewhere within reasonable call of headquarters if they are to be of service and that necessarily limits the protection they are able to afford to the more outlying quarters of the city.

A system of police alarms would probably cost somewhere about $5000. Until Mr. Lynch of the Public Service department makes a report on this subject, the exact cost cannot be stated. It would be, however, not far from that amount. That would be a reasonable sum to pay for what may be considered legitimate insurance of civic peace and protection.

On the other hand, it is not at all certain that there would be any profit in installing a fire alarm system. It is known that in Los Angeles, 90 per cent of the fire alarms are sent in over the phone. It is certain that what few fires Glendale has can be readily made known at fire headquarters in similar fashion. In fact, even where a house may not be equipped with a phone, which is the exception, it is always possible and would generally be the readiest method of notifying the department by using a neighbor's phone.

Naturally, a modern city like Glendale must have up-to-date equipment but there is no use in spending the ratepayers' money on anything not absolutely needed. By doing without the unnecessary fire alarm system the city can probably save about $2,000 and that money can be profitably employed in other directions.

BEWARE OF UNTIMELY LEGISLATION

It is always common sense to let well enough alone and it is quite possible to legislate a city into discontent and to work serious hardship on honorable and industrious citizens. According to a recent sanitary report Glendale enjoys almost a clean bill of health. The city is in good condition and to all appearances needs no interference by way of ordinance with its ordinary conditions.

Yet it is proposed to restrict the keeping of such animals as chickens, goats, horses and rabbits within the city limits, without making such alterations in the present locations of yards and buildings as might prove a serious financial burden to many and prohibitive to some.

Such an ordinance may have its reasonable points and might be a good thing at some other time; but it should be remembered that the country has been passing through a period of depression that has thrown many people on their own resources and deprived them of a living from any other source than those same animals that are to come under the civic ban. Let us go easy on such a matter as this. Untimely legislation is worse than none at all.

EXPECTATIONS OF POLAND

Whatever may be the expectations of Poland regarding the reconstruction of that country at the hands of the Germano-Austrian allies, it is impossible at this moment to state whether or not they will be fulfilled. Poland has had former experiences of conquerors. Napoleon promised great things for Polish nationality, but forgot to fulfill them and consented to the partition of that unfortunate country into its present tripartite government—Germany taking one portion, Austria one and Russia the third.

It is probably a long way from the time when any serious attempt could be made to reconstruct Poland and many events are likely to be written on the pages of history before such reconstruction could be possible. All that Poland is likely to obtain in the future will hardly pay for her desolated fields, her ruined cities, and her brave sons who lie on the many battlefields of Galicia, East Prussia and Russian Poland.

To be busy at some kind of physical or mental work is all right providing the work is the means of producing something useful. Work that leads to corruption would better never be engaged in.

There is sufficient opportunity in this world to do work that is noble and great that he who engages in any work other than that has no valid excuse to offer.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISES

What proved to be a series of pleasing surprises planned by the girls of the T. I. C. of the Presbyterian church for the celebration of three birthdays was carried out last Friday evening. The girls met at the home of Miss Field, 239 South Kenwood street, and thence journeyed to Doran street, where Marjorie Nye was called to the door. A huge sunflower was presented to her with the wish for as many years as there were seeds in the flower. The party then went to the home of Marie Maier, North Adams street. There red geraniums with their many petals wished her dozens of years. Evangeline Quackenbush, East Colorado street, was the next to receive the compliments of her friends by the giving of a large hydrangea blossom. Games and refreshments were enjoyed at the home of Ruth Gray, Verdugo road. The girls all pronounced the affair an evening of jollity, good fun and exercise. The honorees were delightfully surprised.

TOOL THIEF AT WORK

Chief Greenwood of Burbank reports to the Glendale police that a thief is operating in his district and probably in Glendale whose specialty seems to be the stealing of carpenter's tools. Last Friday night this thief abstracted from a dwelling house in Burbank two planes, a six-inch brace, three chisels and two screwdrivers. The thief carries a suitcase and wears tennis shoes. It is thought the same individual may have stolen the tools belonging to Lou Kirri the other day.

A. Bley, who has leased the hall in the new Burbank block for a period of two years, gave his opening dance last Friday evening and he reports a most successful affair. He requests us to announce that the hall will be for rent for parties, banquets or meetings on any or all nights of the week (except Friday nights, which he reserves for his regular dances) at very reasonable terms. Wm. Coryell is slowly recovering from a severe attack of lumbago.

There will be no services at the Holiness church of Burbank for the next two weeks, owing to the sessions of the annual conference, which are being held at the grounds in the Arroyo Seco, South Pasadena.

The regular weekly dance at the Horne hall was unusually well attended last Saturday evening and those in attendance declared they had the best time ever. The music was exceptionally fine.

The Hon. W. A. Thompson chaperoned a merry truck load of friends consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Horne and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ludlow and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Balschwerd and Mrs. Ed. Minert and son, to the beach Sunday and that they enjoyed themselves immensely goes without saying. In their meanderings they found the striking machine and they do say that Mr. Thompson, with his expert knowledge of the way to handle the mail, made the "old maid's score" of thirteen hundred.

Mrs. Thos. King has moved to Whittier, where she will make her home.

E. R. Wright, the tailor who came to Burbank about a year ago, reports a satisfactory and increasing patronage.

Auto Stolen and Recovered

Sunday evening the Ackerly brothers, Robert and Alfred, locked up the Crane garage about 11 o'clock and started for their home on South Magnolia avenue. Just after crossing the S. P. tracks they noticed a couple of men trying to crank up a machine in the middle of the road, which Bob Ackerly thought looked like the Walker car and they started to investigate matters, when the men at the machine immediately walked out into the orchards which line the road at this point. The boys then knew that something was wrong and while one watched the car, the other went back to the S. P. depot and phoned to Marshal Greenwood, who was soon on the spot. The car was identified reported that Peter L. Ferry was the lowest bidder and recommended that the contract be let to Mr. Ferry.

City Manager T. W. Watson recommended to the board that the fire department equipment be increased. He recommended that an auto fire truck equipped with an engine should be purchased and also about 2000 feet of new hose to be used on this auto fire truck. He recommended that the rooms in the second story in the new addition to the city hall be finished as more room is needed in the city hall, especially since it has been decided to have police headquarters at the city hall. He also recommended that a police alarm system should be installed and in connection with it probably a fire alarm system. H. B. Lynch, manager of the public service department, was requested to procure an estimate of the probable cost of a police and fire alarm system.

On motion the board voted to appropriate $50 to pay for a trophy to be selected by the Knights of Pythias and to be donated by them as a grand prize at the Verdugo park picnic on September 6.

The board instructed the city manager to see that the sanitary conditions are kept in an approved manner on the day of the picnic, at which time more than 3000 people are expected to congregate in the park.

An ordinance pertaining to governing the keeping of cows, horses, rabbits, goats and other animals within the city of Glendale was taken up for first and second readings and laid over to the next meeting of the trustees for third reading. This ordinance declares that no animal as mentioned above shall be kept within thirty feet of any neighbor's dwelling house. The ordinance in other respects stipulates the conditions upon which live stock may be kept within the city of Glendale.

On motion J. R. Henderson was granted a permit to make improvements by private contract along the T. W. Preston property on Adams street near Lomita avenue.

A resolution was read and adopted awarding the street improvement work on Ivy street to Peter L. Ferry.

A resolution adopting a new map for Lincoln place was read and on motion the same was adopted.

A motion prevailed requiring that all contractors doing street work in the city of Glendale be required on execution of the final bond, make the same a surety bond.

The demands as published last week and referred to the finance committee were allowed and the clerk instructed to draw warrants on the treasurer for the various amounts.

The board adjourned.

NORTH GLENDAL

Miss Evelyn Kent of 1207 Arden avenue, with Mrs. A. W. Beach and daughters, the Misses Grace and Alice Grey, of 333 North Brand boulevard, left Saturday for San Francisco, where they will attend the Panama-Pacific exposition. The party will be gone two weeks and while in San Francisco they will stop at the Hotel Stratford.

Mrs. Oliver E. Wright and son, Edward, of 1649 Ruth street, spent the week-end in Sawtelle, where they were guests of Mrs. Wright's aunt, Mrs. Mary Wilhelm of Sixth street. Saturday the party enjoyed hearing the Ford Auto company band from Detroit, Mich., which played at Venice.

Mrs. A. J. Neal of Los Angeles, with a party of friends, motored to North Glendale Monday, Mrs. Neal looking after her property interests on North Pacific avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Drake of 1112 Melrose avenue are entertaining as their house guest Mrs. Drake's mother, Mrs. Mary Closson of Mitchell, S. D., who with a party of relatives is touring California.

Mr. G. W. Mouncey of Monrovia motored to North Glendale last Sunday, where he spent the day looking after his property at 1642 Ruth street.

COMMITTED FOR INSANITY

On the complaint sworn to by Patrolman E. A. Laurence, Michael J. Wagner, 418 South Kenwood, was arraigned before Judge Whomes this morning charged with insanity and sent to Los Angeles for further examination. Wagner, it was stated, in the complaint, was disordered in mind so as to endanger his own health and person and the property and lives of himself and others. It was shown that Wagner had threatened to do grievous bodily harm to his family and had attempted to choke different individuals brought in contact with him.

as the Walker Cadillac and the officer soon got a force of men and started on the trail of the thieves, and although the search was kept up until daylight, they were not found, but Mr. Walker is well pleased that his car is at home again. The thieves evidently run the car out of the Walker garage into the alley, where it was easily started down grade and probably run by its own momentum to where the Ackerly brothers discovered the thieves trying to start the engine and thus frustrated their plans.

WASHINGTON AND THE WEST

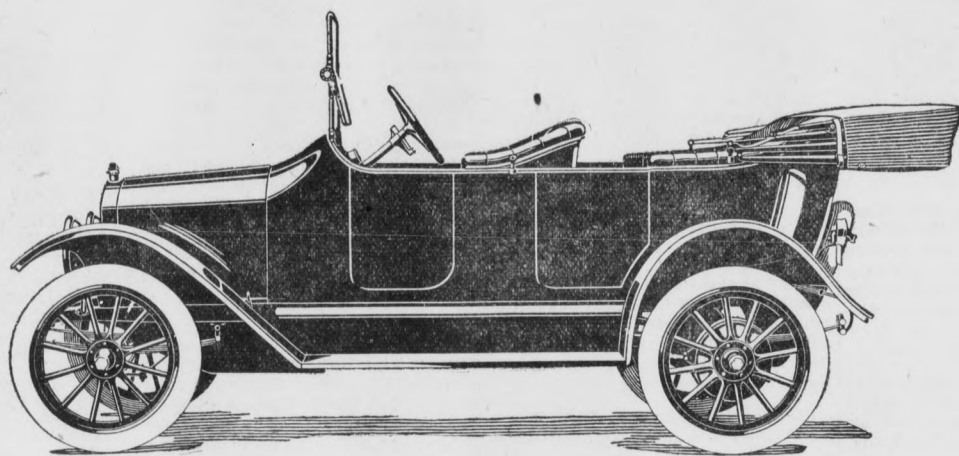

"If you journey today from Cumberland, Md., on the Potomac across the Alleghenies to Pittsburgh on the Ohio, you will follow the most historic highway of America," writes Archer Butler Hulbert in "Washington's Road," reviewing all that Washington did for the Middle West of the United States. "Washington," he says, "had an extraordinary knowledge of the West that he championed."

When, after his arduous service as surveyor and as a trusted military messenger and aide, Washington settled down at Mt. Vernon in 1759. "He was well acquainted with the West, though it might seem that thereafter its destiny and his were to be far apart. But not so. The days that were passed in his early struggles for fame and fortune were not forgotten. In the quiet of farm life and in the drowsy halls of legislation the man could still hear the rippling of the Allegheny streams and the sighing of the great forests, and many of his day dreams found their setting in the rough free land on whose Indian trails and in whose meadow lands he had, as it were, found a new world. Washington's seven or eight thousand acres near the Potomac were not his only landed possessions. He counted his estates in far western Pennsylvania, along the Ohio and the Great Kanawha."
